Invite friends via Social Media

We prepared a videos you may use to advertise for the Linux-Presentation-Day in Social Media or you may as well put it on your website.

Feel free to share this page or video already in the Linux community.

There are two options:

1. Download the video and upload it by yourself in Social Media
2. Share an already created post

At the very day of the L-P-D it is worth to again post an invitiation in private media channels such as LinkedIn, Facebook, etc.

Prepared post on inofficial channel:

Youtube video to share
PeerTube video to share (german for now)

How does that work?

Via Social Media we can reach people outside of the Linux-Community.

Social Media channels with a large reach are e.g. Twitter, LinkedIn, Facebook, Instagram, TikTok, SnapChat, WhatsApp, Telegram, ..

The idea is this:

1. Activate your Linux Community peers (Friendica, Matrix, Mailinglist, Hubzilla, Mastodon, …)
    - Send them this very page or an existing post to distribute
    - Motivate them to distribute the video further in their private Social Media channel(s) of choice
2. Share the video in private Social Media channels
    - Motivate your readers to then distribute your post

Anything to consider?

It would be awesome to have our hashtags included: #LinuxPresentationDay #LPD #OpenSource

A public post could look like this:

 << LOCATION, DATE >>  We want to show you Linux  Invite your friends!
https://l-p-d.org/en/ #LinuxPresentationDay #LPD #OpenSource Come visit us!

A longer post could look like this:

<< LOCATION, DATE >>: Linux-Presentation-Day.
We want to show you Linux - visit us and invite your friends.
